

As Expected GOPs Pick Richard Nixon

By JOE HALL

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, the duly chosen Republican presidential nominee and at last his own man, prepared today to complete his job of taking over the party reins firmly for the historic campaign he believes lies ahead.

The vice president planned to chart the party's course for the next few months in a hard-hitting acceptance speech to the GOP National Convention tonight.

He said it would tip his hand on some details of the campaign he plans to put on against Democrat John F. Kennedy. He has said repeatedly this week his White House fight will be one of the most intense ever waged.

Nixon now, obviously felt able for the first time in 7½ years to speak his own piece on issues as well as campaign strategy—something he had generally avoided as vice president.

He won that right in gaining the convention nomination Wednesday night with only the barest token opposition, a landslide in comparison to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's narrow triumph over Sen. Robert A. Taft in 1952.

Eisenhower made it quite clear he accepted this viewpoint in a telegram he sent Nixon from Denver.

"I am delighted that you are at last free to speak freely and frankly in expressing your views on the present and future of our great country," said the President.

"To your hands I pray that you shall pass the responsibility of the office of the presidency and will be glad to do so."

Nixon, who spent his first two days in Chicago ironing out thorny platform disputes, settled his other problem early today by announcing Henry Cabot Lodge as his choice for a running mate.

Lodge fits perfectly into the strategy of "placing major emphasis on foreign affairs" which Nixon is expected to follow.

As U.S. ambassador to the United Nations for the last 7½ years, Lodge has become a familiar figure on television counter-attacking the stream of Soviet charges leveled against this country.

Republican orators at the convention have borne down heavily on the theme that Kennedy would have sent regrets to the Soviets over the U2 spy plane incident.

The Nixon camp decided to overlook Lodge's lack of popularity with some regular GOP factions, and the feeling of some Republicans that the ambassador will add little to party hopes in Kennedy's New England stronghold.

Lodge lost his Senate seat to Kennedy in 1952.

Nixon announced his choice of a running mate in the early morning hours after a 2½ hour session with 35 party leaders at his headquarters hotel.

He allowed himself only a few hours sleep before setting out this morning to complete the round of meetings with state delegations which have occupied much of his time the past two days.

Bazaar Sale Reported Successful

Hope Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce staged their first (and probably annual) Sidewalk Bazaar Sale this (Thursday) morning from 7 a. m. to 11 a. m. and the merchants agreed that it was a great success.

Second street was blocked off east and west from the First National Bank to the Citizens National Drive-in entrance.

Streets running north and south were left open.

Scores of shoppers were already on hand at 6:30 when most of the merchandise was being put out on the sidewalk.

and in the streets, and from 7 o'clock on thru 11:00, they came, they saw and they bought. Hundreds of shoppers roamed up and down the trade area having a big time as they visited with friends and shopped the bargains galore placed at their convenience.

This townwide promotion is just one of many that the Retail Merchants Committee sponsors each year in which they offer to the buying public outstanding merchandise at value prices and they encourage customers in this area to "Shop in Hope."

Store windows were smashed in both Little Rock and North Little Rock, and police and fire departments were swamped with calls about fallen electric wires.

Five carloads of people and 15 customers in a Levy cafe were trapped by broken power lines. North Little Rock police rescued all of them without injury.

The 90-foot high screen of a drive-in movie theater was smashed by the wind, with loss the owner estimated at $19,000.

One woman said flying glass from a broken car window got in her eyes. Another car was pierced by a board but its occupants escaped injury.

The wind tore about 1,000 feet of the roof off the Old State House, Arkansas' first capitol, causing damage estimated by police at $5,000.

Eight airplanes were damaged at Little Rock's Adams Field. One was overturned by the wind. North Little Rock police said two house trailers on a sales lot were pushed into a street by wind.

At the Pike Plaza Shopping Center in North Little Rock, a store front was blown down only five minutes after it had been locked up for the night.

Streets in much of North Little Rock, downtown Little Rock and the area near the State Capitol were littered with limbs and debris.

"Lights flickered over a wide area as power was disrupted momentarily during the storm. Television stations reported weather difficulties. But broken wires apparently were responsible for the longer power interruptions.

Telephone lines also were down in many places and utility companies called out workmen to speed repairs.

There were reports of a number of persons cut by flying glass, but apparently none were seriously injured. Live wires and lightning produced dozens of fire reports, but most of these were minor.

Police reported a rash of traffic accidents during the storm, but these caused no serious injuries.

The Weather Bureau said the heavy thunderstorm dropped more than a quarter of an inch of rain in its brief passage over the area.

Thunderstorm Damaging at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A fast-moving but violent thunderstorm slashed through the Little Rock-North Little Rock area last night leaving thousands of dollars worth of damage in its wake.

There was no overall estimate of damage and no reported serious injuries.

The Weather Bureau said it was not a tornado, but that winds were 45 to 50 miles an hour with gusts up to 60 miles an hour.

The storm lasted only about 30 minutes. But it left behind toppled trees, falling live power lines, damaged roofs and shattered windows in a wide area.

The Levy section of North Little Rock apparently was hardest hit. Much of North Little Rock was without power for several hours and all policemen and Civil Defense patrolmen were called out to guard against looting.

Store windows were smashed in both Little Rock and North Little Rock, and police and fire departments were swamped with calls about fallen electric wires.

Five carloads of people and 15 customers in a Levy cafe were trapped by broken power lines. North Little Rock police rescued all of them without injury.

Shoppers Look for Bargains

HUNDREDS OF SHOPPERS LOOKED OVER THE BARAINS offered by Hope Merchants this morning in this city's first Sidewalk Bazaar sale. And there were plenty of bargains as participating merchants will verify. The three scenes above were snapped about midmorning and shoppers were still taking advantage of the sidewalk bargains.

UN Secretary Greeted in the Congo

By ANDREW BOROWICZ

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Cries of "Long live free Congo" and "We demand a united Congo" greeted Dag Hammarskjöld today on his arrival in Leopoldville for a survey of the infant nation's grave ills.

The U.N. secretary-general found the young republic rapidly being pacified by U.N. task forces but facing acute economic and political problems.

He hurried to Leopoldville from Brussels, where Belgian Premier Gaston Eyskens and other officials bluntly told him to keep hands off Katanga, the rich, secessionist province being policed by Belgian troops.

U.N. forces control most of the major cities in the rest of the country. There have been no major disturbances reported in the past few days.

Hammarskjöld flew to Brazzaville, in the former French Congo, and crossed the Congo River to Leopoldville by launch.

Hundreds of Congolese shouted and applauded as he walked up from the landing dock. Hoisted placards read "We demand a united Congo. Down with Tshombe," the Katanga provincial premier who proclaimed his province's independence from Premier Patrice Lumumba's central government.

More than 5000 multiracial troops have been rushed here under the U.N. flag since the July 1 collapse within a month of its victory in the Congo.

The young nation's treasury is running dry, and the U.N. Tank Co. Hope, bought the U.S. Van Riper farm near Columbus, Mo., and Mrs. G. T. Adams of Arlington, Texas have fine early this afternoon.

At the 4-H Club convention at Fayetteville an "A" award in Entomology went to Jimmy Carter of Hope.

William & Medford, representatives of the United Farm Agency in Hope announce the following transactions during the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Williams of DeQueen have purchased the W. O. Steele farm near Blevins.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Adams of Eureka, California bought the Alfred Swozy place in Hope.

Charles A. Thomas has purchased the Joseph Reining farm near Okolona.

William M. Gill of the Highway Department, apparently suffered a head stroke while working on Highway 29 between Hope and Blevins this morning.

He was rushed to Hope by a Herndon-Cornelius ambulance.

Turk, Russian Troops Fight 2 Hour on Border

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkish and Soviet troops clashed in a two-hour frontier fight Sunday night, Turkish government sources reported today.

No casualties were reported in the border (Ankara).

Reliable informants said the incident occurred about 9 p. m. near the remote Soviet border outpost of Goniahan, a village half a mile north of the frontier. The nearest Turkish town of any size is Borka, about 10 miles south of the border.

Foreign Ministry sources called the clash a "normal frontier incident." U.S. and NATO officials in Ankara said they had received no report.

There were two versions of what took place.

Foreign Ministry sources said a Turkish border guard observed five or six Soviet soldiers he thought were crossing the frontier and ordered them to halt. When they did not, he opened fire. The Soviet soldier fired back, more Turks came up, and rifle fire continued for about two hours. Then soldiers withdrew.

Sources in the Interior Ministry said they understood a Soviet patrol had tried to arrest a Turkish border guard, apparently believing he had strayed across the frontier. The Turk cried out, his companions rushed to the scene, and the exchange of fire ensued.

The Interior Ministry said it did not know the fate of the soldier but that further information was expected.

The last Soviet-Turkish border incident reported was in August 1959. One Turk was killed and another wounded by Soviet gunfire as they strayed about 30 yards into Soviet territory while cutting grass in the Passof district in the northeast corner of Turkey.

The Soviet Union announced in February 1959 that it had captured four American-trained Turkish spies and killed another when they tried to cross the frontier at night. The Soviet Union claimed the men were "recruits of the Turkish intelligence services trained in an Ankara suburb by American instructors."

DARKNESS IN AFRICA — While the United Nations prepares to send troops into what was formerly the Belgian Congo, now the Republic of the Congo, riots, looting and dangerous political developments continue in the weeks-old land. The nation of 14 million (not to be confused with the Congo Republic, once a French colony) has already seen its richest province, Katanga, split away. Premier Moise Tshombe of Katanga has called the Congo government Communist, has demanded Belgian troops remain and has announced he would not allow U.N. troops into his province. At the same time, the Republic of the Congo has broken off diplomatic relations with Belgium.

FLOUR SHOW — Dipping into a trough filled with flour on his estate at Alresford, England, Sir Anthony Doughty-Tichborne and his daughter, Lady Miranda Tichborne, emerge covered with the stuff. The occasion was a ceremony at which sacks of flour are doled out to employees. According to a 12th-century curse laid on the Tichborne family, if the ceremony is not held, no male heir to the estate will be born.

Gettig-Buchanan Vows Exchanged

Miss Nancy Carolyn Buchanan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Buchanan of Springfield, formerly of Prescott, became the bride of Martin W. Gettig son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Gettig of Boalsburg, Pa., June 25 in the First Baptist Church of Springfield.

Rev. Burton A. Miley performed the ceremony and the bride was escorted by Tommy and Kenneth Buchanan, brothers of the bride.

Miss Judy Harp, organist, presented the nuptial music and accompanied Miss Martha Edison who sang.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Alencon lace fashioned with a sabrena neckline. The bouquet lace over skirt dipped to a point in the front displaying a serrated ruffled underskirt of tulle, and tapered into a brush train. Her finger tip veil of illusion was attached to a pearls and iridescence. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carried an orchid atop a Bible.

Miss Donna Cybert was maid of honor and the bride's sister, Miss Marilyn Buchanan was bridesmaid.

William Gettig served his brother as best man and ushers were Jimmy Edison and Sammy Wilson.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. After a trip, the couple is at home in State College, Pa., they will continue their studies at Pennsylvania State College.

Attending from Prescott were Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Buchanan, Miss Marcia Buchanan, Gregg Buchanan and Mrs. W. A. Porter.

Jean Buchanan Honored — Mrs. Bobby Johnson honored her sister, Miss Jean Buchanan with a surprise birthday party at the city park on Friday night at 7 o'clock.

After the honoree opened her many lovely gifts a sandwich and dessert course was served to guests Misses Barbara and Martha Bolls. Jean Cunningham, Margaret Spuegon, Bobby Smith, Suzanne Lee, Jeannie Geles, 162, Friend, Pittsburgh, 124.

Major League Stars — By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Batting, Bob Allison, Senators — The big outfielder singled with one out in the 15th inning to score Pete Whisenant with the run that gave the Senators a 5-4 victory over the Tigers.

Pitching, Jack Sanford, Giants — The big right-hander permitted only four hits, blanking the Braves 5-0 for his sixth shutout of the season.

To Appeal Ruling in Diamond Case — LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Louis E. Miller of New York City has filed notice he will appeal a federal district court jury's decision that he cannot collect from the Hotel Pines at Pine Bluff for the loss of $65,000 worth of diamonds.

Miller, a jewelry salesman, lost the gems the night of Oct. 15, 1957, while staying at the hotel. A jury ruled June 1 that he and the hotel both were negligent in the disappearance of the diamonds.

He filed notice he would appeal the decision to the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis.

Campaign Offices Are Closed Today

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The campaign offices were closed and the banners gone today and Orval E. Faubus was "Arkansas" governor, with only the formality of a November election between him and a fourth term.

Substantially complete returns from Tuesday's Democratic primary election gave Faubus a lead of 68,301 votes over his four opponents combined. This was 58.75 per cent of the vote, about 10 per cent less than he received in winning a third term in 1958, but sufficient to give him the nomination without a runoff.

Faubus is opposed in the November general election by Republican Henry M. Britt of Hot Springs, but Arkansas hasn't elected a GOP governor since Reconstruction days. Winning the Democratic nomination amounts to election.

Headquarters of Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, Joe C. Hardin of Grady, H.E. Williams of Walnut Ridge and Hal Millsap Jr. of Siloam Springs — the men who oppose Faubus in the primary — were shut down yesterday while workers tended to such details as disposing of office equipment.

Final results of the primary won't be known until county Democratic committees certify their vote totals, but unofficial returns gave Faubus 228,882 votes, Hardin had 63,583, Bennett 56,102, Williams 29,190, Millsap 11,726.

Faubus had a clear majority in the primary.

Red Paper in Attack on Mr. Nixon — By PRESTON GROVER — MOSCOW (AP) — Richard M. Nixon drew bitter words today from Moscow Pravda, the news paper of the Communist party. In story and cartoon, it called the Republican presidential nominee "a weather cock and chameleon."

Moscow Pravda charged Nixon was linked with Wall Street bankers and with McCarthyism. It said he is an advocate of "hinksmanship," who supported the cause of "liberation of Eastern Europe," which it interpreted as creating conspiracies in Communist bloc countries.

Soviet newspapers have not paid half as much attention to the Republican, National Convention as to the Democratic. Most have ignored the Chicago proceedings.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda published only a brief Soviet news agency Tass dispatch on the Republican convention, leaving it to its little brother, Moscow Pravda, to carry the ball against Nixon.

This attack, coupled with previous Soviet campaigning, emphasizes Soviet official preference for a "democratic" victory, although Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic standard bearer, is by no means a fair-haired boy in Soviet eyes.

No attempt has been made to present the American point of view in the Soviet Press. The newspapers have generally passed up U. S. notes to Moscow and speeches by President Eisenhower touching on such things as the RB47 incident, Cuba and the Congo.

Little Hope for Salas — CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Doctors gave up hope today for Andres Cova Salas, leader of Fidel Castro's "26th of July" movement in Venezuela, who was shot five times Wednesday by police.

The police said Cova Salas tried to bar them from his home when they sought to question him about a demonstration. Tuesday sponsored by his organization. The demonstration ended in a riot in which one person was killed and 13 wounded.

Lodge Deals Firmly With the Russians

By WILLIAM N. OATIS — UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge, chosen by Vice President Nixon for his running mate on the Republican ticket, deals firmly with the Soviets in both negotiations and debate. He has shown that in 7 1/2 years as the U.S. permanent representative to the United Nations.

By appointment from the President, Ambassador Lodge was Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's official guide on the latter's tour of the United States last September. Lodge himself toured the Soviet Union for two weeks in January and February.

In the U.N. General Assembly last year, he negotiated agreements with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vyacheslav V. Kuznetsov that produced a unanimous resolution on disarmament and got the Soviets to end their boycott of the eyes.

No attempt has been made to present the American point of view in the Soviet Press. The newspapers have generally passed up U. S. notes to Moscow and speeches by President Eisenhower touching on such things as the RB47 incident, Cuba and the Congo.

U.N. Outer Space Committee

He was involved in negotiations in 1955 to get 16 new members into the U.N. and in 1956 to bring about a cease-fire in the Israeli and British-French attacks on Egypt and to follow it up by putting a U.N. Emergency Force into that country.

He is best known to millions of Americans as the man they see on television, retorting vigorously to the Soviets at the horsedoodle table of the U.N. Security Council.

He shows up well there. He is a broad-shouldered, 58-year-old six-footer with a handsome face, a deep suntan, bushy gray hair and an emphatic manner.

He can match Soviet spokesmen word for word in cold war talk. Sometimes he throws in lively colloquialisms like "horseshoe" and "cock-and-bull story."

But he delivers his blunt speeches in an accent cultivated at Midwestern and Harvard.

"CHIROPRACTOR"

Takes Pride and Pleasure In Announcing the Opening of His Office, August 1, 1960 In the Citizens National Bank Building, Hope, Ark., For the Practice of Chiropractic.

These offices consist of Reception room, Office and Examination, Spino-graphic Laboratory, Adjusting and Resting Rooms, and are equipped with the latest and most modern DIAGNOSTIC, ANALYTICAL, AND THERAPUTIC INSTRUMENTS.

THE SCIENCE OF CHIROPRACTIC

Chiropractic (Pronounced KI-ro-PRAK-tic) is a system of therapeutics based on the premise that the Nerve System controls all other systems and all physiological functions of the human body, that interference with the nerve control of these systems, impairs their functions and induces disease by rendering the body less resistant.

Its Therapeutics are designed to restore normal function of the nerve system by specific adjustments to the structures of the human body. The rapid acceptance of this science has been due to the beneficial results obtained.

THE CASE HISTORIES HEREIN ARE ACTUAL CASES AND SERVE AS AN EXAMPLE OF THE SCOPE OF CHIROPRACTIC.

FEMALE, 28 years of age, "Sciatica". Low back pains, pain shooting down leg into knee. Had been bothered for several years was considering an operation. Under our Chiropractic cure, the entire trouble cleared up, and this person is completely pain free.

MALE, 4 years of age, "Epileptic Seizures, Unable to walk or talk." Parents reported from one to five seizures daily, child unable to assist self in any way. In six months time seizures had been eliminated, had begun to walk and have moderate use of hands.

MALE, 47 years of age, "Arthritis" affecting legs and feet. Unable to work for over a year. Walking very painful, in constant pain. The examination revealed the spinal areas of trouble. Corrective Chiropractic adjustments returned this person to complete health.

FEMALE, 36 years of age, "Asthma". Patient unable to sleep lying down. Very difficult breathing produced nervous exhaustion. After first few adjustments, patient could sleep and rest entire night.

FEMALE, 48 years of age, "Gall Bladder and Back Condition." Patient reported constant back ache, daily sick headache, and on strict diet. Had almost given up hope of ever feeling good again. After taking treatments, patient pain free and eating any food desired.

FEMALE, 54 years of age, "Bursitis" affecting right knee, leg could be used only with great pain. The troubled area was located and corrected by specific Chiropractic adjustments. Patient reports no return of complaint.

FEMALE, 42 years of age, "Migraine Headaches, Nervousness." Patient had suffered almost daily for a number of years. Temporary relief had been gained from time to time by other methods. The examination revealed severe points of nerve pressure, located at the base of the skull, produced by a vertebral misalignment. Thanks to the science of Chiropractic, this person is now completely well.

What to Do About Roving Husband

BY HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:
Your column is filled with such sincere, solid advice that it makes one feel it is never too late to solve our own problems. My problem is an unfaithful husband. We have been married 25 years, have one child, happily married, are in our early fifties, enjoy good health, a beautiful home, two cars and so many other blessings. But, alas, the one I pray for most of all is not always there.

Just a little encouragement from a pretty face and my husband is entranced. You should see the tantrums he goes into if I so much as think he has been a bad boy, even when the lipstick shows. I am not thinking of breaking up my home—for from it—as I've put up with this so long now.

What is the answer? Should I see and say nothing when he comes home two hours late for supper? Your thoughts on this could be very beneficial to me. —J.W.

Dear J.W.: You have heard of men in their Foolish Forties, haven't you? Some who escape folly in those years suffer in their Frantic Fifties. When some men reach that age, they feel that they need assurance that they are as dashing and as attractive as when they met and won their wives.

Don't take his "romances" seriously because they aren't serious—and won't be unless your suspicions drive him away from you. Instead, give him the reassurance he needs. Praise his looks, encourage him to work to keep his figure, help him be the masculine person he wants to be. He will recover soon—and sooner if you reassure him that he is a vigorous male.

Dear Helen:
Our church group is sponsoring a convention which a friend and I would like to attend. We are both 15 and would be going to the city with my cousin. My mother won't let me go because we have to stay at a hotel for two days. Who is right? —Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: It is difficult to say who is right or wrong without knowing all the facts. How old is your cousin? Does your mother approve or disapprove of your girl friend? On the basis of what you have told me there is nothing improper about two young girls staying at a hotel provided they are adequately chaperoned and, as in your case, attending a church-sponsored convention.

Dear Helen:
I am 19, engaged to a young man of 21 who is away for six months. I have held a good position in an office for the last two years and go to church regularly. But my father treats me like a child of two and constantly picks on me in front of others for no reason. For the first time recently, I spoke bitter words back to him to prove that I was not a child and doing nothing wrong. My mother does not believe I should speak to him in that manner. I believe in respect and obedience to one's parents, but isn't he going too far? Should I sit back and say nothing or rebel? —Troubled Mind

Dear Troubled Mind: Your husband

7 American Students Held by Russians

MOSCOW (AP)—Seven American students were held by police today in a downtown Moscow hotel after they distributed the magazine "Amerika" in front of the hotel.

Amerika is a handsomely illustrated, slick-paper magazine published by the United States in the Russian language and intended to explain the United States to Russians. It is distributed in the U.S.S.R. on a strictly limited quota basis in return for permission to the Soviet Union to distribute a similar magazine on a limited basis in the United States.

One of the students, identified by the U. S. Embassy only as McGovern, managed to slip away from the hotel and slip off the embassy.

An embassy official rushed to the hotel and began negotiating for release of the students.

The incident is similar to one over the weekend when six American students were temporarily held for distributing the same magazine, which is issued by the U. S. State Department.

The first group was released after signing statements, the contents of which they claim they did not understand, since the statements were in Russian.

The magazine is issued monthly and attempts to present an objective picture of this newspaper.

Florida Expenses Before Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Bills for expenses of a receiver for properties of George and Andrew Florida of Osceola have been submitted to U. S. District Court.

Memphis asked Federal Judge J. Beverly J. Lambert of West Smith-Healey, who appointed him receiver for the Florida properties, to approve payment of a Florida brothers contend the bills should not be paid.

"They argue that appointment of a receiver was not necessary and that he has not performed any services pending disposition of all their properties are in receivership pending disposition of an $11 million dollar federal tax claim."

The bills cover salary payments for Lambert and his attorney, travel expenses and accounting services.

Model Nomination

CHICAGO (AP)—Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield's nomination for a speech for Richard M. Nixon was a model of convention brevity—just 220 words.

But it can't compare with the nominating speech for another Republican, Abraham Lincoln, 100 years ago. That took only 20 words.

Draft Dodger is Sentenced

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arvin Monroe Frank, 24, of Fayetteville, has been sentenced to two years in prison for refusing to take one step forward to complete his induction into military service.

Frank reported to the Army recruiting station at Little Rock May 27, 1959, but refused to take the step forward. He claimed he was exempt from military service because he was a minister in the Jehovah's witnesses church.

A jury found him guilty June 20, but Judge Gordon B. Young deferred sentence until yesterday. Frank will begin his sentence Oct. 3.

Sanford Finally Hurls Shutout Over Braves

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Jack Sanford today must show how Freddy Fitzsimmons, another "Giant" pitcher, fell 25 years ago.

In 1935, Fitzsimmons lost eight out of 12 decisions, he had to pitch a shutout.

Sanford won his ninth game for San Francisco Wednesday, a 5-0 triumph over Milwaukee. He has lost eight. Six of his victories have been shutouts.

Big Jack's four-hitter combined with Pittsburgh's 7-3 triumph over St. Louis increased the Pirates' first-place lead over the Braves to 1 1/2 games.

Los Angeles' third-place Dodgers blanked the Cincinnati Reds 2-0, behind Don Drysdale's four-hitter and the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Chicago Cubs 7-5.

Chicago's White Sox widened their first-place American League margin over the rained-out New York Yankees to 1 1/2 games with a 10-4 victory over Boston. In the only other game played in the junior circuit, Washington outlasted Detroit 5-4 in 15 innings on Bob Allison's run-scoring single.

Orlando Cepeda, with three hits, and Jim Marshall, with one, drove in two runs apiece to lead the Giants' eight-hit attack on loser Lew Burdette and Don McMahon. Drysdale duplicated Sanford's four-hit performance for Los Angeles.

Indonesia Cracy Over the Cha-Cha

BY JOHN GRIFFIN

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno is losing the battle of the cha-cha.

The evidence is as plain as the young Indonesian couples dance to the bongo beat at a government-run night spot just half a block from his downtown palace.

Since traditional Indonesian dances are slow, so the socialists feel the cha-cha provides an element of hip-swinging abandon for a youth faced with mounting frustrations and limited opportunities.

A young Indonesian puts it a simpler way — "We like it — it's fun." Sukarno, a staunch nationalist, went on the attack a year ago.

In a series of speeches and statements, he labeled cha-cha and rock 'n' roll mixed-up noises called music. He called the new dances the first steps in a foreign cultural imperialism that could destroy Indonesia's national identity.

The Jakarta army garrison outlawed cha-cha, even in private homes. Records in stores were destroyed, and a fine was ordered for anyone teaching the banned steps.

Sukarno stressed even more than Indonesian folk dances were the patriotic thing to do. He often keeps Jakarta's diplomatic corps going for two hours or more — either envoys and their wives from both sides of the Iron and Bamboo curtains weaving hand in hand about in an endless chain to beat of tom toms and chants from the Spice Islands. Sukarno leads the way.

But few of Jakarta's city-bred youth follow the presidential lead.

At first they went underground. Teen-agers and college students had cha-cha parties at private homes, behind drawn curtains. Foreigners with cha-cha records became popular hosts.

Then came a bolder move. En-

Lumumba Seeks Help of All Kinds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba, arriving today in quest of American economic and technical aid, pledged to establish a "true democracy" in his crisis-ridden country.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, greeting him at the airport in a steady rain, expressed "heartfelt wishes for the speedy return of tranquility to your country."

"We are, as you know," Herter said, "doing all in our power to support the United Nations in its response to your appeal for aid."

The bespectacled Lumumba avoided any criticism of Belgium in his arrival remarks. He described as "unfortunate events" the riots and army mutiny which brought Belgian soldiers rushing back to the Congo to protect European settlers.

Lumumba came from New York in a special U. S. Air Force transport for a hastily arranged two-day visit.

An honor guard of Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force units, drenched by the rain, stood at attention. The Army band, plus a big color guard also greeted him.

A Congo flag, a blue bannier with gold stars, fluttered from the fender of the car in which he rode with Herter, along with the Stars and Stripes. The Congo flag had been hastily sewn Tuesday night in advance of his arrival.

The Army band did not have time to learn the Congo national anthem. Instead they played the "Stars and Stripes Forever" when Lumumba stepped out of the plane to the sound of a 19-gun salute.

Surprising band leaders look some of the Indonesian songs Sukarno likes so much and gave them a Latin beat.

Now blaring jazz and Latin music is far out into the open.

Americans May See a Double Image

Nixon, Man and Image

Editor's Note—Attack and counter-attack, high drama, and relentless determination mark the amazing political rise of Richard Nixon. Pro or con, few people are neutral toward the Republican presidential nominee. This is the first of a series.

By SAUL PETT

CHICAGO (AP)—American will see a double image on its television sets tonight when Richard Milhous Nixon rises to accept the Republican nomination for president.

Few people, it may be reasonably assumed, will see a clear, neutral picture free of subjective fuzziness. Few will see the same man.

For seldom have so many Americans been so emotionally divided in advance at the debut of a first-time candidate for president.

One large group of TV viewers will see only a wholesome, earnest, dedicated, fighting, courageous American.

Another large group will see only a suspicious, overly ambitious, cynical politician.

With few exceptions, Nixon has generated far more heat than light. In 1950, "the man who caught even began his first presidential campaign. He has thrown more tomatoes that stained and he has received more.

For years, he has been the No. 1 tormenter and target of the Democrats. And this year they expect to go all out policy of voting along with the since they no longer have to reach around the protective form of Dwight D. Eisenhower to grab at "his boy" and vice president.

Probably because Nixon has been involved, as a congressman, senator, and vice president, in so many supercharged events that registered in the public consciousness.

The statesmanlike tact and dignity of a young vice president filling in for a dangerously ill, highly popular president; the do with communism, Nixon won shocking, spittle and flying glass by 700,000 votes.

He was well on his way toward lacking not just a man but a symbol of America, and the man proved his physical courage. The extraordinary spectacle of a young American standing up to and counterpunching with skillful effectiveness against the supreme dictator of the Soviet Union on his own home grounds.

Let's begin with the campaign of 1946 when an unknown young lawyer from Whittier, Calif., late discharged from the Navy, took on a well-enriched Democrat seeking to retain his seat in Congressional office.

Richard Nixon fought Jerry Voorhis largely on the premise that a "vote for Nixon is a vote against the Communist-dominated PAC (Political Action Committee of the CIO) with its gigantic slush fund."

The young Republican won decisively, by more than 15,000 votes.

In 1948, Congressman Nixon, a member of the House Un-American Activities Investigating Committee, heard Whittaker Chambers testify that Alger Hiss had been part of a Communist spy ring within our borders.

The committee then heard Hiss. Most members were inclined to doubt Chambers and believe Hiss at first glance. Not Nixon. He pushed for the great confrontation.

They finally met and that led to Hiss' libel suit and the libel suit.

Hiss' libel suit ultimately led to Hiss' own indictment and conviction for perjury. In 1950, "the man who caught even began his first presidential campaign. He has thrown more tomatoes that stained and he has received more.

Even before she squared off against Nixon, Mrs. Douglas already had had a rough Democratic primary; her opponent had cried out against her "consistent policy of voting along with the notorious New York radical, Vito Marcantonio."

In the general election, Nixon adopted the same theme, only he expanded it, intensified it, dramatized it, hammered away at it with relentless fire. He circulated thousands of "pink sheets" describing the voting record of the "pink lady" and insisting she had voted the same way as Marcantonio no less than 354 times.

Little was said about the fact that many of the votes had nothing to do with communism. Nixon won shocking, spittle and flying glass by 700,000 votes.

He was well on his way toward

Ike Urging a 'Middle Road' Policy

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower today urged Republican candidates to follow "the great middle road" and ignore the gutter, left or right.

Eisenhower led forth to Republican office-seekers at a party breakfast the philosophy of Abraham Lincoln that the government should undertake only those things that the people are unable to do themselves.

"We ought to use it as a flaming battle flag on the highest most the Republican party can put up and fight for it always," Eisenhower said.

This approach to government is difficult to defend, the President added, and requires intelligent explanation or will be attacked from both flanks.

"But that is exactly what we have to do," he said.

The Republican party possesses great strength, however, Eisenhower said, "because so many people want to go in exactly that direction."

Eisenhower addressed a breakfast meeting of his own Cabinet officers and GOP candidates for various offices. About 600 attended the affair, in the Morrison Hotel.

It was Eisenhower's last scheduled appearance in this convention city before heading with Mrs. Eisenhower for Denver, where he will spend the rest of the week. "In the operation of any great human organism," Eisenhower told his fellow Republicans, "constructive plans and programs must be developed in what we call the great middle road."

The President said most people instinctively "grow to like the paved highway stretching before them and they understand that here is where human progress is achieved."

He said "we are truly a middle of the road party." By that, he added, "I don't mean walking just a wishy-washy path—not at all."

Eisenhower said there are those who insist on "marching in the gutters, the extremes of the right and left," but he declared that they "in the long run are always defeated."

He set forth this goal: "You must find the broad highway and you must ignore the gutters."

In the Republican party, he said, he found few, if any, "who are in the gutters."

The President was acclaimed in a manner he'll never forget when he arrived Tuesday.

A throng of about one million roared an exuberant welcome and showered the President and his wife with confetti, ticker tape and gay balloons.

222 Votes Cast for Dead Man

ROGERS, Ark. (AP)—Voters in the Escalopia Township here gave a dead man 222 votes for justice of the peace in yesterday's Arkansas Democratic primary.

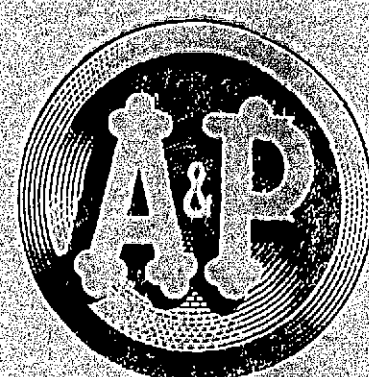

Lee Roy Harris filed for the office last spring. He died about two months ago, after the ticket had closed and it was too late to take his name off the ballot.

Jack Allumbaugh, the only other candidate for the post, got 856 votes.

the hot center of the national campaign. He had the issue and he had the badge as the sheriff who had nabbed Hiss and wrestled two "left-wingers" to the ground. Richard Milhous Nixon was now rolling forward with great momentum but then came the campaign of 1952 and he was almost derailed permanently.

Nixon Hits Milestone in Long Drive

By Joe Hall

CHICAGO, (AP)—Richard M. Nixon today reaches the next to last major milestone in his long campaign to become President of the United States.

By the time he goes to bed tonight, the vice president should be the Republican nominee for this office, quite probably by acclamation and certainly with no serious opposition.

Ahead of him will lie three months of arduous work and campaigning leading up to the day of election Nov. 8. He has repeatedly pledged to the national convention delegates this week his fight will be as unremitting as any in the nation's political history.

Nixon told one delegation "I may have some inadequacies, but I can promise you this—I will work as no one has ever worked before to try to lead you to victory."

Nixon yielded the convention spotlight Tuesday to his chief, President Eisenhower, who tapped the youthful Californian as his running mate eight years ago this month in Chicago.

But Eisenhower flies on to Denver today, leaving the star role entirely to Nixon.

The vice president appeared to have a firm grasp on all levers of power in the convention.

He settled one of his two key problems Tuesday, the writing of an acceptable platform, and laid his plans for the solution of the other, selection of a running mate who would add maximum strength to the ticket.

It was evident in the Nixon camp that the civil rights plank finally worked out for the platform did not meet all the specifications the vice president would have considered ideal.

But he sent word he felt the platform committee had done an "outstanding job" on civil rights and all other planks.

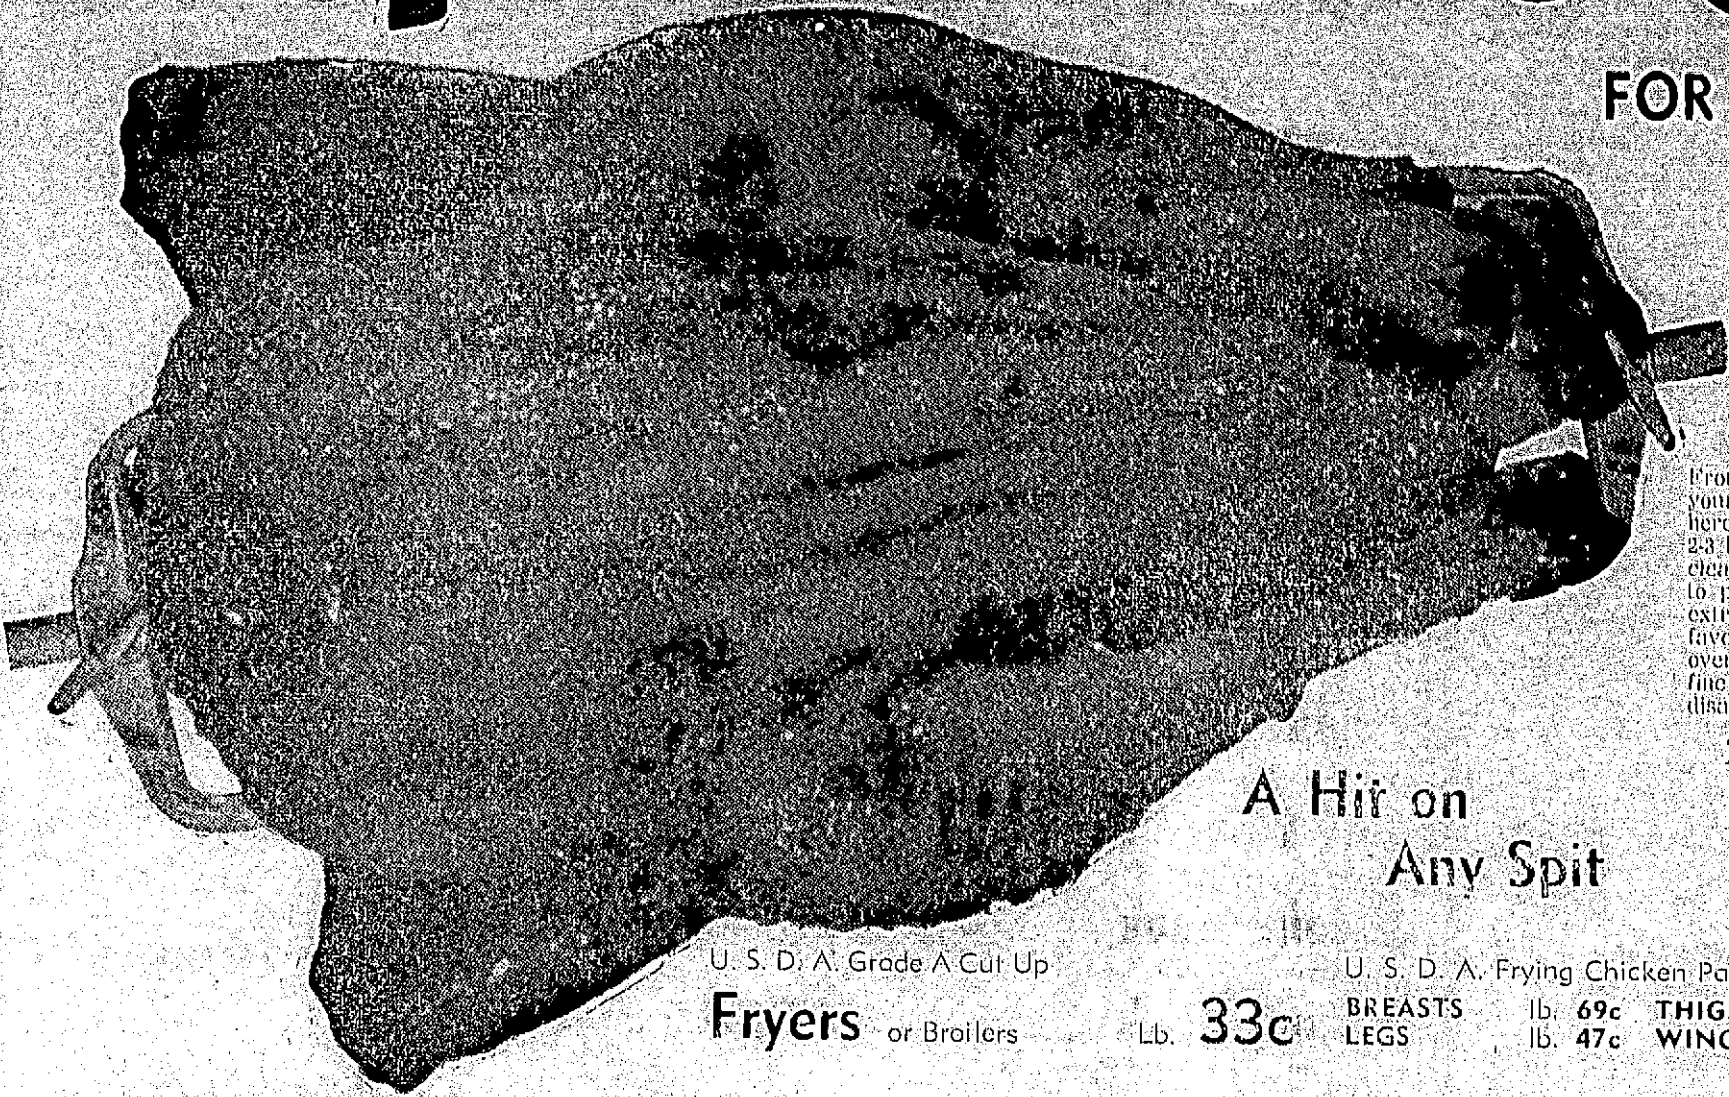

On the No. 2 ticket spot, Nixon was keeping mum.

However, he told reporters that his procedure for selecting a running mate would be to convene a meeting of party leaders in his suite after tonight's convention session.

Nixon said this plan made it obvious the vice presidential nomination could not come tonight as listed in the convention program but would have to be postponed.

GOPs Agree Court Ruling Was Right

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

CHICAGO (AP)—It has taken the Republicans a party, six years to get around to saying they think the Supreme Court was right in outlawing segregation in public schools. The Democrats, as a party, haven't said it yet.

The court handed down its decision May 17, 1954. The first chance either party had to come out flatly in approval of the court's historic and far-reaching action was in their party platforms in the 1956 campaign. Both backed away from a flat approval.

Both parties of course, had their eye on the Southern white vote. Too hearty an endorsement of the court ruling was a cliché to cast votes in the South for the party bold enough to try it. In their 1956 platform, the Republicans wouldn't go any further than saying their party accepts the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court that racial discrimination in publicly supported schools must be progressively eliminated.

This was quite a long way from saying the party approved what the court did. President Eisenhower himself set the pace for such a caution by avoiding saying to this day that he approves the court's action.

But in 1956 the Democrats' platform was even more cagey than that of the Republicans. The Democrats, whose Southern members have been a constant obstacle to civil rights legislation in Congress, contented themselves with this:

"Recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States relating to segregation in publicly supported schools and elsewhere have brought consequences of vast importance to our nation as a whole and especially to communities directly affected."

It was hardly news that the court decision was going to force big changes.

Two weeks ago at Los Angeles the Democrats produced the strongest civil rights plank in their history—one which may cost them some Southern white votes—but still avoided flat endorsement of what the court did in 1954.

Southern delegates at the Democratic convention were unhappy over the whole civil rights plank of the party. Then the Republicans moved into Chicago for their convention.

Southern white Republican delegates fought against any strong civil rights plank though Vice President Richard M. Nixon said he wanted a firm one.

Negro leaders told the Republicans that if they expected Negro votes in the November elections, they couldn't afford to come out with a civil rights plank weaker than the Democrats.

For days the Republican Platform Committee—at a time when it knew the Democratic plank might cost the Democrats some white Southern votes—fiddled around with the idea of coming up with a less forthright plank than the Democrats.

In the end it produced a civil rights plank which in some ways was a little tougher than the Democrats' promises on civil rights and in other ways was a little softer.

But the Republicans' civil rights plank wound up being the strongest the party had yet produced. And, on the subject of the court's 1954 decision, the Republicans went further than the Democrats have ever dared to go.

The Republicans said flatly: "We supported the position of the Negro school children even before the Supreme Court. We believe the Supreme Court school decision was right and should be carried out in accordance with the mandate of the court."

Belgians Advise About Katanga

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—The Belgian government told U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld today that the U.N. should keep its hands off Katanga, the rich Congo province that has proclaimed its independence.

This was announced at a news conference tonight by Premier Gaston Eyskens.

"We request the U.N. not to intervene in the Congo's internal affairs," Eyskens said.

Hammarskjöld talked over the Belgian situation with King Baudouin and government officials on a six-hour visit, then took off via a KLM Dutch airliner for a stay of four or five days in the Congo.

Earnings in U. S. Steel Fall Sharply

NEW YORK (AP)—Earnings of United States Steel Corp. fell sharply in the second quarter this year as compared with record income a year ago, the company reported today.

Net income for the three months ended June 30 totaled $99,223,489, equal to $1.38 a share, compared with a record $148,363,193 or $2.64 a share last year.

Earnings last year were boosted by urgent demand from consumers anxious to build up inventories prior to a steel strike.

Directors declared a dividend of 75 cents a common share, payable Sept. 10 to stockholders of record Aug. 8. This is what the company has been paying quarterly.

Net income for the six months ended June 30 totaled $193,472,241, equal to $2.35 a share, compared with a record $254,940,490 or $4.50 a share last year.

The company's income for the first half represented a return of 8.8 per cent on sales of $2,109,949,599. Last year the return was 10.1 per cent on record sales of $2,721,331,380.

Net income for the second quarter represented a return of 8.1 per cent on sales of $1,002,333,894 compared with 10.2 per cent on record sales of $1,449,743,080 in the second quarter last year.

U.S. and foreign taxes on income totaled 72 million dollars for the second quarter and 194 million dollars for the first half. Last year the comparative figures were 164 million and 269 million.

Fires in Far West Are Still Raging

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Pacific Northwest, its biggest week-old fires still out of control, had more than 50 new lightning-caused fires today.

The new blazes in Oregon and Washington and Idaho came as a lightning storm passed over the area Tuesday. Most were small and fire fighters rushed to quell them early.

At Boise, Idaho, Bill Logan, 38, was jailed for arson in connection with a 25,000-acre fire that blackened rangeland near Marsing, Idaho, and along the Oregon border. Thousands of fire fighters continued their struggle. The biggest, the 20,000-acre Anthony Lakes fire in the Walla-Walla National Forest, remained unchecked.

Other big fires in the Walla-Walla National Forest broke over fire lines Tuesday. They were the Cummings Creek fire of 2,000 acres in the Pomeroy district of southeastern Washington; the 5,000-acre Spring Creek fire at the eastern tip of Oregon; and Cow Creek fire, also in eastern Oregon of 1600 acres. The Pony Creek fire in the Snake River Canyon was not ringed by lines and had burned 10,500 acres.

In Idaho, the 12,000-acre Hells Canyon fire in Payette National Forest; a 4,000-acre Johnson Bar fire in north-central Idaho; and a 7,000-acre brush fire north of Dubois in Targhee National Forest were still out of control.

Mother Appeals to Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Francis Gary Powers appeared in person to the Soviet Embassy today for permission to visit her husband, awaiting trial as a spy. She was told Moscow would have to pass on her visa application.

"They said they would let us know as soon as they got word from Moscow," said Alexander W. Parker, Richmond, Va., attorney who accompanied Mrs. Parker.

NAACP Praises Rights Plank

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People today praised the civil rights platform plank of both political parties but said the Democratic declaration is stronger and more comprehensive than the Republican.

Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, said the Democratic plank "does not shrink from the tough topics of a Federal Employment Practices Commission and a pledge to press legislation giving the Justice Department broad authority to use injunctive powers to end discrimination in all fields.

Notes From the GOP Convention

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Notes of a TV convention watcher—

The Republicans brought up their No. 1 star Tuesday night with President Eisenhower dealing the nominating convention a speech that set the partisan pot boiling.

Until the President took stage center there was little to keep the home viewer glued to the set. It had been an interesting but not particularly vital show. The networks did what they could to stir excitement over the civil rights plank of the platform, the liberal-conservative positions and the vice-presidential choice.

But, as with the Democratic meet, the inevitability of the presidential nomination robbed the convention of its drama and may be the reason for mediocre TV ratings. Americans love a good fight but respond coolly to political riles.

Richard Nixon for president tonight is the Republicans' answer to the handsome juveniles of the opposition. In an interview with CBS' Charles Collingwood, the Oregon governor looked as handsome as a TV gunfighter.

ABC seems to be the most steadfast with sticking to the speakers on the podium through thick and thin. CBS is next. NBC appears to wander the most.

Too much talk is beginning to show on some of the TV commentators. Edward R. Murrow admitted referring to the Republican leaders as "Nixon and Tickle-feller."

Arkansas' death rate is below the national average. Only four other states have a lower death rate than Arkansas.

Sanitation Strike in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—City Sanitation Department workers stopped work today in protest over the breakdown of contract negotiations. Eight thousand men are involved.

After voting the stoppage at an early morning meeting, the workers began a demonstration to publicize the protest.

They marched to City Hall from their meeting, the parade stretching six blocks and causing traffic snarls en route.

The union did not announce immediately how long the work stoppage would last. A spokesman for the union, Uniformed Sanitationmen's Assn., Local 831, of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America, said the wording of the resolution calling for a "work stoppage" was important since the State's Condon-Wadlin law prohibits strikes by public employees.

Sanitation Commissioner Paul R. Scervino said that about 25 per cent of the usual daily work force of 5,000 sanitation men showed up for the morning shift. The department operates on a day-and-night basis six days a week, with garbage collections at this time of year normally totaling about 5,000 truck loads daily, about 3,000 tons of refuse a day.

"We have asked the public to be patient," Scervino said. "A substantial number of households in the city will not receive refuse collection service today."

If the stoppage is prolonged, he said, steps would have to be taken to avoid a health emergency. Already, action was under way to certify about 5,000 other men on departmental civil service lists for possible special-duty calls.

Salk Declares His Vaccine Underrated

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Dr. Jonas Salk today said the polio vaccine he developed has been underestimated.

In a speech to the fifth international polio conference, the American scientist described as untrue reports that the vaccine, made of dead virus, leaves unprotected from 20 to 30 per cent of those who receive immunization shots.

He said an investigation he carried out in connection with a polio epidemic in the United States last year failed to show a single person out of 10,000 who did not react to the vaccine. He said one injection had given immunity to part of the population.

He said his vaccine should be developed to where it will give long-term immunization with a single injection. This, he said, is theoretically possible.

Dr. Maurice K. Hillman of Merck Laboratories reported development of a new polio vaccine that under test conditions gives immunity to most persons after two injections within a month interval.

Dr. Gordon C. Brown of the University of Michigan said babies whose mothers had received polio vaccine were born with some protection against the disease. He said, however, it was far from enough.

Blind Vet Scores Win in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A nearly blind veteran of Bataan and a state senator scored the big victories in Oklahoma's runoff primary yesterday.

It was a Democratic affair except for a handful of Republican contests on the local level. Republicans also voted on two constitutional questions which were approved.

The veteran, Hoz Bussey, a 37-year-old county attorney, won a 6-year term on the state court of criminal appeals, defeating presiding Judge John C. Powell by almost a 7-5 margin.

State Sen. Yates Land of Tulsa scored a narrow victory over Wesley V. Disney for the Democratic nomination to Congress in the 1st District. Land won 18,438 to 12,672.

In the only statewide race, Wilburn Cartwright won re-election to another 6-year term on the state Corporation Commission. He defeated state Supreme Court clerk Andy Payne by almost 25,000 votes.

Supreme Court Justice Harry L. S. Halley won another 6-year term defeating state district Judge Leslie Webb.

One constitutional question, approved by more than 24,000 votes, authorizes a 10 million dollar bond issue to set up a revolving loan fund to make loans to new Oklahoma industries.

The other approves county elections on raising additional taxes for libraries. It won by less than 1,000 votes.
